Prof. B. C. Lewis

Sometime ago we announced the name of Prof. B. C. Lewis, as a candidate for the office of Senator for this District. Up to this time we have been unable to procure his cut, but now as we have same we present him in somewhat the way he appears.

Mr. Lewis was born in Laurel county, Kentucky and was educated in Union College with which he has been connected for many years as instructor in the Normal Department. He has been connected with school work most all his life and has been very successful.

He expects to enter on a vigorous campaign about May 25th, and will allow no grass to grow under his feet.

Mr. Lewis is well known especially among the teachers of this and adjoining counties, beside this he has a large train of kinsmen in Laurel, Clay, Knox and Whitley counties all of whom are hustlers.

Nelson W. Aldrich

That he was the persistent, potential friend of American labor and industry, the powerful advocate of all that contributed toward the support of American business, is the monument that immortal history will erect over the grave of Nelson W. Aldrich, whose death occurred April 15, 1915. During his term of thirty years in the United States Senate he never faltered in his conviction that the best interests of American business were the best interests of the American people as a whole. Believing this, he was, of course, a stalwart Protectionist. His was the guiding hand which helped to frame two of the best Protective Tariffs the country ever had: the Dingley Tariff of 1897 and the Payne-Aldrich Tariff of 1909. Senator Aldrich had no doubts and no delusions on the subject of Protection. He knew what Protection meant to American employment, American wages and the American standard of living. In his view labor and its rewards were the great things to be considered. Almost twenty years ago the editor of the American Economist wrote to Senator Aldrich in Washington the following inquiry:

What, in your judgment, is the proportion which labor cost bears toward production cost?

Very promptly came the reply of Senator Aldrich, as follows: "Labor cost and production cost are practically equivalent terms. Believing this as he did, Mr. Aldrich could hardly have been any less than the positive that compromising Protectionist, unless he was. All honors to his memory!"

It is up to us, will we show our hands? Or will we stand idly by and let this route go some other way? We have it in our power if we will only make an effort to get the national highway from Detroit Mich. to Tampa Florida right through our own county, this will be the greatest road ever built in America. We are informed that it is to be 60 ft. wide, and 18 inches deep, made under Direct supervision of the U. S. Government. ## Boon Way Commissioners Appointed

Dr. W. C. Black and Dr. F. P. Dishman of this city were elected the two Commissioners from Knox County to elect the "Boon Way" from Cumberland Gap to Louisville at a Boon Way Convention held at Mt. Vernon evening of the 26th instant.

The Commissioners went into executive session and succeeded in officially locating the old Daniel Boone trail from the Gap to Harrodsburg passing through Muldiesboro, Pineville, Barbourville, London, Mt. Vernon, Crab Orchard, Stanford, Lancaster, Fannville and Harrodsburg. Convention adjourned to meet again the 22nd of May and complete its work. Lawrenceburg and Lexington are each making a strong pull for the road but as the latter is the most direct the probability is that same will be routed that way unless the Dixie Highway is routed through Lexington.

Judge L. W. Bethurum presided over the Mass Convention Senator Joe F. Bosworth and Mayor Mauring were the elected Commissioners from Bell County. Senator Bosworth, Dr. Black, and Judge Hardin from this end of the state spoke at the meeting.

$20 INCREASE PER ACRE ON LAND ADJOINING ROADS BUILT UNDER NEW STATE AID LAW

This State Aid Law for Building Good Roads Promises To Be the Greatest Blessing Ever Brought To Kentucky Land Owners, If the Burden of the Taxes is Not Thrown Upon Them Through Unwise Legislation.

The new and greater Kentucky, as a result of wise legislation, as against the old Kentucky, with unwise legislation, high taxes and roads, poor schools and worse school houses. Which do you prefer?

An increase of at least $20 an acre on the value of all lands adjoining improved roads built under the new State Aid Law is estimated by expert calculators who have gone into the subject very thoroughly.

The building of these public highways will also increase all other lands in proportion in every county and district.

This most notable forward step will prove the greatest blessing that has ever come to the land owners of Kentucky.

It is the intent of this law that all taxable property shall bear its proportionate burden of taxation for this State Fund for road building.

It was not intended that the land owner, though possibly receiving the greatest benefit, should bear the greatest part of the tax burden. Such great sources of revenue as our railroad properties, distilleries, financial institutions and manufacturing enterprises will bear their just part, as well as all other taxable property. The throttling or crippling of any of these great resources by hostile legislation must lay a heavier burden upon the land owners and other tax payers.

More than 100 counties have already levied a tax upon themselves in order to take advantage of this State Aid Fund for the building of Good Roads in their respective sections. This year alone the fund amounts to $625,220. This sum will be increased by levies in these counties so that the sum expended will probably exceed two million dollars.

It is estimated that at least 6,000 miles of good roads will be completed under this new State Aid Law within the next 15 years, costing when completed approximately thirty millions of dollars. It is also estimated that the expenditure of the two million dollars this year will increase the value of property to the extent of at least twenty-five millions of dollars in the counties where these roads are built.

This is a splendid beginning. What a difference this will make to the land owners, the farmers and all others who make use of county roads, whether for business or pleasure. There are many fine farms in Kentucky 20 or more miles from the railroad that are not worth half as much as if they were near a railroad station, for the reason that it is too far to haul farm products to market over the old-fashioned dirt roads, which are practically impassable for nearly half of the year.

What a difference, though, when these same farms shall have been connected with the railroad or the market with a good State road over which it is easy to drive and haul as compared with the old roads. To haul a large load over a good road, even twenty miles, is easier and quicker than to haul it over five miles of the old time winter mud road. These good roads, therefore, will bring the distant farm nearer to the market and add greatly to the profits of two products of the farm.

Under the supervision of competent state and county road engineers, county seats and the most populous sections of the State will be connected by improved public highways, bringing church, school and market nearer door of every family. Then will a new era of prosperity in Kentucky be inaugurated.

With the markets thus of reach, the farmer can market his products of all kinds to better advantage in every way - do it in more cases, less cost and than ever heretofore.

While good roads are necessary and of more use than possibly any other means to which the farmer can turn for his other important such wholesome legislation as will make it easy to raise money to carry on these great works of public improvement, without laying too heavy a burden upon the tax payers, many of whom are now bearing their fair share, and sometimes more, than their share. The State's revenues are not sufficient by nearly a million dollars a year to meet the expenses of government. These expenses have to be met out of the taxes paid on the property of our citizens.

Any legislation that would tend to cripple or render less valuable any of the great tax-paying industries of the State, will necessarily transfer the burden to the farmer, merchant and home owner.

It is true for every tax payer to demand that his representatives in the Legislature consider these facts. It is time for them to call a halt to the destruction or threatened destruction, by hostile legislation, of property interests in the State from which we derive our greatest revenues.

In other words, industries and enterprises that pay the largest taxes and make possible the great benefits to be derived from good roads, good schools, and improvements in public attitude, must not be destroyed from the State.

Good roads bring and city folk in means a broader attitude in public

Hon. Thos. G. Hammons,
Judge of the Knox County Court.

A few days ago Judge Hammons received notice that all real and personal property was raised 10% and a raise of 5% on city lots. As soon as Judge Hammons received this notice he got busy and went to Frankfort and went before the the State Board, and presented his side of the case so strong that the Board gave the matter due consideration, and let Knox County off with one half of the amount, or in other words 5% on each $100 worth of real and personal property.

Through Judge Hammons' untiring efforts in this matter he saved the taxpayers of County something like $13,000. This is a great saving to the people of the County and Judge Hammons is to be congratulated as he is one of the only a very few that has ever been able to get any reduction in a raise when once fixed.

Judge Hammons was congratulated by Governor McCreary and others of the State officers on his victory in this matter as well as by Prof. J. W. Jordan, of Williamsburg, Ky. on congratulating Judge Hammons presented him with a fine gavel made of a rare piece of timber, asking him to keep it to govern his courts in the future and to preserve it a memento of his victory on this occasion.

As we said before Judge Hammons is deserving the highest applauses of his fellow citizens.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever. Fine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dol-

WOMEN'S WOES

Barbourville, Women, Are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women hate more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity;
 they must keep up, must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, beating down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with aching pains. "So many aches from kidney ills." Keep the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery.
 Real of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people in this locality.

Former "Ice
 King" Talks

John Rohman Praises Remarkable Work of Medicine, Tanlac.

Louisville, April 15—Almost everybody in Louisville is personally acquainted with or has heard of John Rohman. The "Ice King" of Louisville, as he was formerly called by those who have known and respected him for his honesty and integrity for a score or more years, has been a sufferer from stomach complaints and a general delicated condition for a considerable length of time.

Like lots of other folks, Mr.
 Rohman, was a little skeptical regarding the merits of the new preparation, Tanlac, as he had tried numerous medicines in the past without obtaining the right results. However, the publishing of testimonials from Louisville people he knew who had been actually benefited by Tanlac, convinced him that a test of the preparation was worth the attempt.

Mr. Rohman had suffered much annoyance from indigestion, especially. He got Tanlac and began using it. A few atternums ago he was prepared to make this statement:

"Less than two weeks ago I obtained this Tanlac. The medicine was just what I needed.
 It went straight to the spots. I strengthened right up. My appetite is improved, as well as my sleep. It had paid a thousand dollars for the medicine, it would have been worth that to me. The anticipation of taking the next dose of Tanlac is a real pleasure."

Tanlac, the remarkable medicine referred to by Mr. Rohman, is now distributed in Louisville
 by the personal direction of I. J.
 Cooper, and in Barbourville by the Herndon Drug Co., where the famous medicine can be purchased.

In Heaven With Hop

(Cheerfully dedicated to the New York Tribune.)

"There's what I call a nice young man," remarked St. Peter to the Angel Gabriel.

"What?" queried Gabriel, pausing for an instant in his bugle position.

"That intrepid fellow. That one. See him? Went on the guardian of the Gate, pointing up Main Street. That's Hop Sandams, from Earth. We let such a lot of people in here who are not at all very good, that it's a real nuisance to let in someone who is not aggressively virtuous during his lifetime, and that fellow fills the bill. He's done a heap of good exposing bad food and fake merchandise in the New York newspaper."

"He seems to be coming back the way," remarked Gabriel, pointing several o'clocks.

"So he does," said St. Peter, somewhat surprised. "I'll introduce you." The next minute—or should one say the next year or the next century, for there is no such thing as time, as we know it—the Healer of Eternity—appeared before St. Peter and the Angel Gabriel much agitated.

"He was making terrible discords on his new harp."

"Here, my dear sir," St. Peter said, "this is most unseemly."

"Stop!" cried the newcomer, whose face which trembled with indignation.

"How long has this been going on? This scandalous state of affairs?"

"Scandalous state of affairs in Heaven?"

"St. Peter leaned weakly against the gates of Jasper and pearl and flung himself with his key, which he gripped in his bugle so hard."

"The mouthpiece came off. I'm afraid I don't quite get you, young man," said St. Peter, when he could find his voice.

"What—what is it that is scandalous?" The aggressive person, Hop Sandams by name, made a gesture of impatience.

"Is it possible you don't know?" he cried, "that you never suspected? Why, this Honey, Great gloom, man, how long has this been going on? Millions of years, I suppose."

"St. Peter looked about him for a moment and finally pointed simply on a cloud settee. Hop Sandams continued amazingly."

"If I knew it was phony; the minute I looked at it. I've been in the game too long not to know the rank stiff when I see it. To think of the times I've read of our streets just flowing with milk and Honey. And now to come up here and find that your Honey is almost all glucose—"

"Glucose?"

"Yes, sir, glucose; glucose and rank coloring matter. As for the combs it comes in, bees never saw them. They're made of paraffin."

"St. Peter fingered his whiskers nervously and looked about for Gabriel, but Gabriel discreetly was not there. A tiny speck in the infinite marked the region of his flight."

"As for Milk," resumed the investigator, "words fail me. Why there isn't a Board of Health anywhere on Earth that would let such Milk get by. It's just straining with germs. Laud it, then, don't you ever take any precautions? Haven't you a little?"

"Don't you make in-lager my harp."

"ne. Speak-ald."

"Abide withd Muh. Onward Sandust Trailers! Come ye Discosolates ginks at Hep. My Soul! Days are Beating it."

"Indoubtedly, ac-ry-act! stand-eacreligions Billy Sunday."

A rip on the knocker—they are conservative at the Gate and door-bells have never found favor—reminded St. Peter of his duty. With unsteady steps he tottered toward the sound, but Hop Sandams was right after him.

"As for these Gates which you call Jasper and pearl," he began, "while I haven't been here long enough to say positively, still I—"

He paused. St. Peter was outside attending to some new arrivals and did not hear.

"This is Heaven, isn't it?" asked the spokesman of the new arrivals.

St. Peter hesitated. Then waved an imaginary mist from before his eyes.

"It has been all along," he replied, "but I'm afraid it's going to be hell here now."

Saving The Country's Honor

A big political spectacle is in process of staging for 1916. Rehearsals are under way, and press-agents are busy. The name of the piece is "Saving the Country's Honor"—an old, old show which has had many revivals, but which will never die so long as "supes" are plentiful and willing to serve. At a gathering of some of the principals the other day, it was given out that the state of the country's health was very grave; that economic conditions closely paralleled those of 1896, and that "saving the country's honor" would be the sacred task of all present. This was the "supes" cue to wave their arms and cheer.

Now, we would not belittle a worthy cause, nor sneer at anyone who is devoted to the word honor. Honor is a holy word, whether it refer to individual standards or to the conduct of a nation. We would simply hark back to days of 1896, when the country's honor was "saved" before, and, without delving into details, call brief attention to some subsequent inconsistencies. Disclosures in the decade succeeding 1896 laid bare remarkable facts which had a decided relation to honor. Of such a nature were the disclosures, it became apparent to all who could read and reason that many of the gentry who rushed to "save the country's honor" had precious little honor of their own. It was as if wolves had feared for the safety of the sheep-fold.

We will not discourage any well-meaning "supes" who yearns to take part in the great spectacle of 1916. If the national honor is endangered by the policies of the Wilson administration, by all means let it be saved. But we say to the large number of political chor-s-men who shout and cheer—yes, and vote at the beck of the all-star cast, be sure it is the national honor and not somebody's private graft or private illegality that is imperiled, and for which the national honor pays but a stalking-horse. A dog's hind leg is straightness its if it is mared with some of the men who "saved the country's honor" in 1896.

If you are a "supes" in the big political spectacle—and "supes" are what most of us are—at least play a thinking part.

Certain ministers not only defend Billy Sunday but glory in him. They mildly classify as "slang" the evangelist's rough-neck vocabulary, and refuse to be shocked at the means he employs when the "results" he obtains are so inspiring. But why confine slang to sermons? Are not the hymn-books suffering from "dry rot" as well as the pulpit discourses? The words of some hymns are beautiful, but what is beauty compared with punch? Let Hymns be revised to suit the times. Let there be in the Billy Sunday Hymn Book such sacred songs as—

Abide withd Muh.

Onward Sandust Trailers! Come ye Discosolates ginks at Hep. My Soul! Days are Beating it.

Indoubtedly, ac-ry-act! stand-eacreligions Billy Sunday.

LIV-VER-LAX

All the Effectiveness, Not the Effect of Calomel!

Liv-Ver-Lax is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years. For a long time medical experts, realizing the harmful effects of calomel, have been striving to find a liver cleanser that would be just as effective as calomel, and yet be absolutely harmless in its action. Recently this remedy was actually put forth by L. K. Grigsby, in his Liv-Ver-Lax.

Liv-Ver-Lax is a harmless vegetable compound, designed solely for the treatment of liver complaints. The immediate favor it has met with in thousands of homes is proof positive of its real value.

If you feel worn out, tongue coated, and skin sallow, don't delay until it becomes dangerous, nip the trouble in the bud with Liv-Ver-Lax. Insist on the genuine, bearing the signature and likeness of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by all druggists. —adv.
